A Letter from the East

ne day a friend of mine from the East wrote me a letter. He asked me to visit an old man named Simon Wheeler. My friend wanted me to ask Simon Wheeler about a childhood companion, 1 Leonidas W. Smiley.

I found Simon Wheeler sleeping by the stove <sup>2</sup> of the old tavern in Angel's Mining Camp. I noticed that he was fat. His face was simple and peaceful. When he woke up, I told him that a friend of mine wanted to know about a childhood companion named Leonidas W. Smiley.

 childhood companion: a friend from infancy. 2. stove

1. CHILDHOOD COMPANION: Un amigo de la infancia.

The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County

Simon Wheeler blocked me with his chair in a corner of the tavern. Then, very seriously, he began to tell me the story that follows.

There was once a fellow <sup>1</sup> at the mining camp named Jim Smiley. It was the winter of 1849 or maybe the spring of 1850. He was an unusual man. He always bet <sup>2</sup> money on anything that happened at the mining camp, and he usually won. Jim Smiley was a very lucky <sup>3</sup> man. When there was a horse race, a dog-fight, <sup>4</sup> a cat-fight or a chicken-fight he always bet on them.

END

- 1. fellow : man.
- 2. bet : risked money on the uncertain result of a future event.
- 3. lucky : fortunate.
- 4. dog-fight: a battle between two dogs.
